राष्ट्रपति

India marks Janjatiya Gaurav Divas today. We recall the great Bhagwan Birsa Munda and reiterate our commitment to ensuring even greater progress for our tribal communities... After Independence, for the first time in the country, on such a large scale, the art-culture of the entire country's tribal society, their contribution to the freedom movement and nation building is being remembered and honored with pride.

Shri NARENDRA MODI,
PRIME MINISTER OF INDIA

The tribal communities have been using the natural resources since time immemorial. Today the need is to safeguard and promote the interests and rights of the Scheduled Tribes as provided by the Constitution, so that they can move ahead and excel in their lives. It is important to preserve and promote tribal cultures, traditions and heritage in order to uplift the quality of people living in tribal areas.

Shri ARJUN MUNDA

of forests from tribals: President celebration

Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas celebration

SHAHDOL (MP), Nov 15: President Droupadi Murmu on Tuesday underlined the need to learn from tribals on the conservation of forests given the major challenges being posed by issues like climate change and global warming.

Addressing a Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas programme in MP's Shahdol district, she said tribal communities had participated in India's freedom struggle wherein different ideologies and activities played an important role.

The Centre had last year declared November 15 as Janjatiya Gaurav Divas to mark the birth anniversary of tribal icon Birsa Munda and remember the contribution of tribal freedom fighters.

"Today, issues of climate change and global warming have posed a major challenge to the world. There is a need to learn from the tribal lifestyle and their determination for conserving forests," the President said addressing the event in Lalpur village.

She recalled the struggle of tribal society in conserving and protecting forest areas during British rule and added they have also sacrificed their lives for this cause. "Most of the tribal areas have been rich in forest and mineral wealth. Our tribal brothers and sisters live a life based on nature and protect nature with respect. They had fought fiercely during the British rule to protect this natural wealth from exploitation," she said.

The President said the conservation of the forest wealth was, to a large extent, possible due to tribals' sacrifices.

Murmu said tribal society gives equal importance to human beings and vegetation.

"In the tribal society, groups are given importance rather than individuals. Cooperative (living) is preferred instead of competition and equality over speciality," she said. (PTI)

SHILLONG, Nov 15: As part of the Janjatiya Gaurav Divas, which was declared by the Narendra Modi government last year to mark the birth anniversary of tribal icon Birsa Munda, the Martin Luther Christian University on Tuesday organised a national seminar on 'Folklore – Traditional Knowledge in Art Form' at Kper Mawbyinna, Nartiang village, West Jaintia Hills.

According to a statement, the seminar was organised in collaboration with the Arts and Culture department and was attended by Wahehchong M Phalangi, village representatives, and the students of MLCU and Sauramandala Foundation, Shillong.

"The main objective of the event was to have a discourse on folklore, definition, history and academic significance in contemporary times and to encourage and develop an interest towards folklore and folkloric studies," the statement said.

During the seminar, the speakers encouraged the locals to take a lead role in documenting folklore through children's local songs in games and local proverbs.

They also explained how folklore is the first authentic
