

In pictures: President Droupadi Murmu inaugurates Aadi Mahotsav 2024 in New Delhi

The National Tribal Festival, organized by TRIFED under the aegis of the Ministry of Tribal Affairs, will showcase the rich diversity of India's tribal heritage till February 18

Our Web Desk | Published 10.02.24, 03:40 PM

President Droupadi Murmu greets the gathering during the inauguration of 'Aadi Mahotsav 2024'.

President Droupadi Murmu being presented a memento by Union Tribal Affairs Minister Ariun Munda during the inauguration of 'Aadi Mahotsav 2024'.

Tribal artists perform during the inauguration of 'Aadi Mahotsav 2024' (National Tribal Festival), in New Delhi. One thousand artisans from across the country will also participate and showcase their performances.

An artisan at a stall during the inauguration of 'Aadi Mahotsav 2024' (National Tribal Festival). The Ministry of Tribal Affairs said that the festival will feature over 300 stalls, offering a varied display of Tribal art, handicrafts, natural produce, and delectable tribal cuisine.

Tribal artists perform during the inauguration of 'Aadi Mahotsav 2024'.

Artisans at a stall during the inauguration of 'Aadi Mahotsav 2024' (National Tribal Festival).